NOTHING DOING.

Tramp—Help me, kind sir. I have seen better days than this.
Mr. Jinks—So have I. This weather is awful.

A Wise Old Owl.
In her trim little bathing suit she sat on the white sand.
"I adore intelligence," she cried.
"So do I," said he. "All the same, though, beauty and intellect never go together."
"And do you think me intellectual?" she faltered.
"No," he confessed, frankly.
With a faint blush she murmured, "Flatterer!"

YI SYEK LAYS DOWN SCEPTRE

Ruler of Hermit Kingdom Finally Yields His Title, Submitting Gracefully to the Inevitable.

Tokio.—The official promulgation of the treaty of the annexation of Korea by Japan, under the name Cho Sen, was made at 9 o'clock Monday morning. At the same time a mass of documents providing for the future government of the new colony was made public.

Seoul, Korea.—Upon the relinquishment of his power and the turning over of his country and people to the sovereignty of Japan, Emperor Yi Syek issued the following farewell rescript: "Notwithstanding our unworthiness, we have succeeded in the arduous task handed down by our ancestors. We have endeavored, up to the present, to follow modern administrative principles, but long existing evils and deep rooted weakness make it impossible for us to effect reforms in a reasonable time. Daily and nightly we were concerned, but were unable to rectify these conditions.

"Therefore, we feel constrained, believing it wise, to entrust the great task to other hands."

The deposed emperor appealed to his people not to create commotion, and declares that in taking this step he has not disregarded their interests.

ENJOYS CHEYENNE VISIT.

Colonel Roosevelt Shows That West Has Still Hold on His Heart.

Cheyenne, Wyo.—Into the midst of a picturesque setting representing the old frontier days of the west, Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, former president of the United States, made a triumphal entry on Saturday; shook hands with old friends, looked upon the old scenes, reviewed a parade and delivered a speech, not to mention eating a luncheon tendered him by public-spirited citizens of Cheyenne; dinner given by the governor of the state and a whooping, uproarious greeting from cowboys, soldiers and Indians.

The west is near to the heart of the former president and he showed it plainly in his speech and his joyous manner of entering into the spirit of the occasion.

GAYNOR SLOWLY RECOVERING.

Injured Executive Leaves Hospital and is Now at Home.

New York.—Mayor Gaynor was taken from St. Mary's hospital in Hoboken Sunday morning to "Deep Wells," his country place at St. James, L. I. He bore the trip well, but his insistent plea to be allowed to walk unaided resulted in two distressing incidents. Once he sank to his knees as he tried to enter an automobile, and in ascending the steps of his home he fell on all fours from over-exertion. Despite his weakness, however, he maintained his cheerful mood and once at "Deep Wells" he spent the afternoon reclining in a chair on the veranda.

TAFT URGES HARMONY.

Says Factional Differences Should Be Forgotten.

New York.—President Taft's letter to W. B. McKinley, chairman of the Republican congressional committee, was made public Sunday night by the New York headquarters of the committee. The president, in the communication, says that differences between Republicans should be forgotten in the congressional election and that "all Republicans who believe in the party principles as declared in its national platform of 1908, should give the candidates loyal and effective support. If this is done, there will be no doubt of a return of a Republican majority."

Ogden-Evanston Cut-off Certain.

Salt Lake City.—The Tribune announces that the Union Pacific has just completed the final survey, and the maps and profile are now before President Lovett and the board of directors in New York for a cut-off from Evanston, Wyo., to Ogden, which will effect a saving in mileage of more than fifteen miles and will cut the grade between the two division points to at least a 1 1/4 per cent grade. To accomplish this will necessitate the construction of a tunnel about 3,500 feet long.

Courts Frown Upon Closed Shop.

New York.—Parades of protest broke out all over the east side Saturday afternoon on receipt of the news that Justice Goff had ruled in the state supreme court that a strike which demands the "closed shop" is a conspiracy in restraint of trade. Bands of 60,000 cloakmakers now on strike marched through the streets, one of them to the city hall, carrying banners and American flags and shouting "closed shop" at every street. There was no violence.

FASTIDIOUS.

"Lady, can you give me a little gasoline?"

"For the land's sake! You don't drink gasoline, do you?"

"No, lady. I want to clean me gloves with it."

All the Difference.

The professor was delivering an eloquent address on cruelty to animals, and to illustrate how a little judicious forethought would eliminate to a great extent the sufferings that even small insects are subject to, said:

"As I was coming through the hall tonight I saw a bald-headed gentleman very harshly treat a little innocent house-fly which had alighted on his head.

"Now, if there was any justification for such bad temper, I would be quite justified in indulging in it at the present moment, for a fly has just alighted on the back of my head. I can't see it, but I can feel it.

"Possibly some of you can see it now; it is on the top of my head. Now it is coming down my brow; now it is coming on to my— G-r-r-r! pyramids of Egypt, it's a—wasp!"

IN AGONY WITH ECZEMA

"No tongue can tell how I suffered for five years with itching and bleeding eczema, until I was cured by the Cuticura Remedies, and I am so grateful I want the world to know, for what helped me will help others. My body and face were covered with sores. One day it would seem to be better, and then break out again with the most terrible pain and itching. I have been sick several times, but never in my life did I experience such awful suffering as with this eczema. I had made up my mind that death was near at hand, and I longed for that time when I would be at rest. I had tried many different doctors and medicines without success, and my mother brought me the Cuticura Remedies, insisting that I try them. I began to feel better after the first bath with Cuticura Soap, and one application of Cuticura Ointment.

"I continued with the Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment, and have taken four bottles of Cuticura Resolvent, and consider myself well. This was nine years ago and I have had no return of the trouble since. Any person having any doubt about this wonderful cure by the Cuticura Remedies can write to my address. Mrs. Altie Etson, 93 Inn Road, Battle Creek, Mich., Oct. 16, 1909."

One Record Made by Women.

Through the activity of women, in the anti-tuberculosis campaign, sanatoria and hospitals for the treatment of tuberculosis have been erected; traveling libraries have been circulated, posters, circulars and other kinds of literature have been distributed to the number of millions of pieces, thousands of lectures have been given, large sums of money have been secured, hundreds of needy cases have been helped; tuberculosis work has been started in many communities where no movement had existed; and millions of women have learned the dangers and methods of prevention of tuberculosis. The work of the women extends from the drawing-room of the rich to the homes of the poor, and embraces all classes, including the factory girl and millionaire. During the coming year a special campaign of lectures to women will be carried on in all parts of the United States.

Tough Luck.

"I thought you said this was a young chicken," remarked Newed, as he sawed away at a portion of the bird.

"And I thought it was," rejoined his better half. "I looked in its mouth and it showed no indications of having cut a single tooth yet. The dealer must have imposed upon me."

"Did he tell you it was a young chicken?" queried her husband.

"No," replied Mrs. Newed. "But I'm sure he must have extracted its teeth before offering it for sale."
